

DEWEY, DO WE DO 'EM?

Do we take Manila?
Dewey?
Well, we should smile.
We don't do a thing to 'em!
Dewey?
Just give 'em a taste of—well!
Don't we?
Dewey?
A hot touch!
The grand rush!
A warm time!
Do we hand it out to the haughty Dons?
Dewey?
There's nothing to it!
We give them their due!
We do!
Part of it.
That's what we do.
Dewey?
Do we run away?
Do we keep cool and wait?
Well, what do you think now?
Dewey?
Not on your life!
Dewey?

Remember the Maine!
What the sunken Maine?
Dewey?
Well, we don't forget!
Dewey?
Do we miss a shot?
Do we settle the score?
Oh, Dewey?
Not much!
Do we square accounts for treachery's deed?
Dewey?
We do indeed!
At least in part.
But there's more to do.
Much more.
Do we stop at this?
Do we close the deal?
Dewey?
Is the incident closed?
Isn't it just begun?
That good work—
Dewey?
Do we rest the case?
What, at this point?
Well, wonder!
Dewey?

VOLUNTEERS ARRIVED AT SAN ANTONIO

Off for the Front Saturday—Trip to Las Vegas—One Grand Ovation—Speeches and Songs.

Special Dispatch to the New Mexican.

San Antonio, Tex., May 10.—Troops arrived this morning. Not a sick man in command. Will be uniformed and armed by tomorrow noon. Will leave on Saturday for the front.

Special Correspondence New Mexican.

En Route, May 8.—We can't talk this morning, none of us. Troop A, I mean. Cause: One grand time all the way from Lamy to Las Vegas. It was just to show our faith and good feeling toward our officers, and it would have done every New Mexican's heart good to have been there. From the dear old home we left to the junction, songs were the order, the troop having a large number of good singers. The singing attracted our gallant Captain Fritz, who was in the next car, who, accompanied by Lieutenant Kelly, came in to hear it. On his entrance the reception he received will long be remembered by him as well as all of us. Lieut. Kelly stepped to the middle of the aisle and in a brief address told of the worth and manhood of our officers. He was loudly cheered. Then our captain was called upon, and in his many ways which makes him so popular, he said in substance:

"Boys, I am one of you off duty; will always be one of you, and will do anything I can for you. On duty I have been commissioned your commander, and want you to obey my commands. But I will never ask you to do what I would not do myself, and will never ask you to go where I would not lead."

Lieutenant Griffin, was then called upon. He also made a neat little speech, as also did Lieutenant Coleman. Major Massey then put in his appearance, and of course was called upon. He told the boys if they did not cease yelling he would have to treat a lot of sore throats in the morning. We have the sore throats, because there were many more of us wanted to show our earnestness in the volunteer movement. The speakers in the car called upon were about as follows: Sergeant Dams, Sergeant Langston, Sergeant Prentice, Sergeant Wesley, Sergeant Jones, Sergeant Reber, Sergeant Taylor, Sergeant Wright and Bob Gortner and Frank Hudson, who accompanied the troops to Las Vegas. The speeches were all good, especially that of our old friend, Bob. He spoke for those who stayed at home, and in his quotation from Shakespeare, "All the world's a stage, etc.," when he came to "we are the audience and will watch every act and applaud it," his eyes filled with tears, which clearly showed he meant every word.

About this time the officers of the troop proceeded to the governor's car and requested his presence in our car. Accompanied by Major Hersey, Judge Advocate General Twitchell, Captain Reed and Major Rankin, of Las Vegas, and our officers, he entered. Sore throats or anything else you should have heard that cheer, followed by our troop yell: "Rah! Rah! Rah!"

"Rah! Rah! Rah!"
"We're the cowboy regiment!"
"From Santa Fe!"
"Bound for Cuba!"

The governor was then called upon for a speech. He said he thought the boys would appreciate a song by Colonel Ralph Twitchell more. We let him off with the song, one of Twitchell's own.

The governor was then called upon again, he said: "Boys, you are all right, and I am proud of you. Go on wherever they order you; do your duty and may you all return safe and sound, covered with glory and you will receive a still heartier welcome home than was our good-bye. There are a great many words in the English language hard to pronounce; there are a great many sentences hard to say, but the hardest of all was that little word you all said to your friends, 'Good-bye.' Again, brave lads I say, go on, and God be with you." The cheer was simply deafening. Major Hersey then told of his love for the boys and how he would stay by them through thick and thin, in warfare and out of it. Our major is all right and the boys showed their appreciation of this fact.

The governor was followed by Captain Reed and Major Rankin. They also were cheered loudly. About this time Las Vegas was reached, and everybody in the city was surely at the depot, including the infantry company of the National Guard who fired three volleys on our departure. At Raton our reception was grand, also. When we pulled in their hand played "Rally Round the Flag," and gave us a great cheer. In fact all along the line, as far as we have gone, it has been one grand ovation. I am writing this with the train going at full speed, so the "comps" must not wish me where the Spanish language is going to predominate for the next year or so.

Special Correspondence New Mexican.
Dodge City, Kas., May 8.—Volunteers arrived here all well and O. K. All through Colorado and Kansas enthusiastic crowds met the train at the stations. Some of the boys developed their warlike inclinations by sinking schooners here (beer). Hiram Lowitzki is somewhat homesick. Letters will be sent the New Mexican from each stopping place.

MAJOR H. B. HERSEY,
1st Regiment U. S. Volunteer Cavalry.

Was born at Williamstown, Vt., July 28, 1861, and is a member of one of the oldest and most prominent families in New England. He was educated at the normal school of Randolph and received a military education at the Norwich university in that state. Immediately after leaving school Mr. Hersey entered the U. S. army signal service and thereafter the government weather service. In that capacity he was stationed in a number of different states, coming to Santa Fe in April 1891, where he was stationed as weather observer and as section director of the territorial weather service. June 21, 1897, Mr. Hersey was appointed adjutant general of the territory by Governor Otero, with the rank of colonel, vice Geo. W. Knaebel. When the 1st U. S. volunteer cavalry was called into service, Colonel Hersey resigned his position as adjutant general and was appointed major of the 1st regiment, U. S. volunteer cavalry, April 25, '98. His appointment was very satisfactory to the officers and enlisted men of the battalion and was made at the personal and urgent request of many of the National Guard officers and of the officers of the battalion, who expressed a strong desire to have Major Hersey as their immediate commander. The record of this officer will be carefully watched by this journal and it is believed that he will prove a gallant, competent and efficient officer.

MINOR CITY TOPICS.

The Arcade bar, under the efficient management of H. L. Ormerod, is developing into one of the very popular resorts in Santa Fe. Mr. Ormerod has the faculty of making friends and retaining them.

Chas. Haspelmath has received a fine lot of illustrated post advertisement material for scenes in and around Santa Fe. The series comprise six sets of cards, containing six views each. The engraving was done in Germany and the cards make excellent souvenirs. It cost 2 cents to send out each card.

The work at the Santa Fe railway depot has been completed, and the appearance of the grounds around the station has been much improved. The tank and windmill have been removed, the water pipes are all in place and the improved water system will soon have its effect on the park.

Those acquainted with the ability of the clubs mentioned anticipate a pleasant time for the spectators—latter free of admission fees.

Yesterday a paper was circulated among the colored people of the city for signatures of residents offering their services to Governor Otero in the war against Spain or any other foreign foe. The document received 25 signatures yesterday, and more will be added today. As there are only about 50 colored people in the city, the showing is exceptionally good.

Regular weekly meeting of Santa Fe lodge No. 2, Knights of Pythias, this evening at 8 o'clock at Castle hall. Important business will be transacted and all members are requested to attend. Visiting knights given a most cordial welcome.

Don't forget that Thursday's New Mexican REVIEW will contain the articles relative to the organization and departure of the New Mexican volunteers.

TO NULLIFY PENITENTIARY CONTRACTS

A. Staab Thinks the Penitentiary Board Has Not Treated Him As He Wants to Be—Secures a Temporary Injunction.

Upon the application of A. Staab et al., Associate Justice John R. McFie this morning granted a writ of temporary injunction, directed to the board of penitentiary commissioners and the superintendent of the territorial penitentiary enjoining these officials from receiving any supplies under the bids awarded on May 3 last and also to the following bidders, the Browne & Manzaneros company, Gross, Blackwell & company, Arthur Seligman and the Santa Fe Mercantile company, from delivering any supplies awarded them on the day mentioned and making this writ of injunction returnable on May 27 in chambers in this city.

Staab alleges in his complaint and petition for the writ of injunction, that the awards to these bidders are unjust and improper and the like and that he was the lowest and best bidder and should have been awarded all these contracts; that is the gist of the complaint which is quite modest, all considered.

It is not exactly clear, held by good attorneys, how this matter can be reached by a writ of injunction as the awarding of contracts is a matter of discretion with the board of penitentiary commissioners and as it is understood generally that such officers can exercise a full discretionary power, award or reject bids and select such supplies as in their opinion will best serve the interests of the commonwealth, and as are found the cheapest and best all round material, texture, kind, quality, quantity and all things considered.

The official legal representative of the board of penitentiary commissioners is the solicitor general of the territory and it is presumed he will appear for the board at the proper time.

Messrs. Catron & Gortner are the attorneys for A. Staab.

NATIONAL GUARD NOTES.

Official Order Announcing Changes in the Office of Adjutant General—Military Notes.

A cavalry troop is being organized in this city. It is expected that the officers of the troop will be: William Storer, captain; Ireneo Chaves, 1st lieutenant, and R. L. Baca, 2d lieutenant. The troop, after organization, will be assigned to the 1st regiment of cavalry, N. M. N. G.

A commission has been issued to Clinton C. Llewellyn as captain of company C, 1st regiment of infantry, N. M. N. G., stationed at Las Cruces.

The Otero Guards at Las Vegas are drilling five times a week and are becoming very proficient and efficient in drill and discipline.

Captain C. D. Rogers, company G, 1st infantry N. M. N. G., Albuquerque, is here on official business and had an interview with Governor Otero on National Guard matters.

Governor Otero is still receiving applications for volunteers. As New Mexico's quota is filled, all such are placed on file and will be used should a second call for volunteers be made.
